

Simplify.

Your job search doesn't have to be complicated. Not when you work with Psychiatrists Only. Sure, there are other companies out there, but we've been dedicated to placing psychiatrists since 1998. Our focus is you. Whether you're interested in locums or a perm opportunity, we can put you to work.

Locum tenens is a perfect fit for many healthcare providers in various stages of their careers. Whether you're just starting out, established in your career, or even retired, locum tenens with Psychiatrists Only can offer you incredible opportunities.

- Explore different geographic regions before making a move.
- Search for a full-time position while working locums to earn a steady income.
- Use locums to generate extra income.
- Set your own schedule with locum tenens assignments – from 1 week to 52 weeks – and enjoy practicing medicine, without the daily grind and politics of a full-time position.
- Experience different practice settings to compare technologies, procedures and personnel.
- Get to know the staff, community and the working environment before you make a permanent commitment.
- Focus on what you do best: practice medicine. Leave the administrative headaches to us.
- Work when you want to work - allowing time for friends, family, hobbies, travel, etc.

With a minimum commitment, working locums with Psychiatrists Only will allow you the opportunity to be licensed in multiple states, and we'll pick up the cost.

Q&A

What is locum tenens? The term translates to mean “A substitute or deputy; one filling an office for a time” (Webster’s, 1996). Locum Tenens is the term commonly used for a temporary assignment held by a physician or allied healthcare professional.

Where can I work locum tenens? Wherever physicians practice medicine. Locums psychiatrists work in hospitals, group practices, and government facilities. Assignments can range from a couple of weeks to more than a year.

Is locum tenens right for me? Locums offers you freedom and flexibility to work where and when you want. Whether you’re a graduating resident, interested in a new practice opportunity, or just ready to scale back, locums allows you to explore various practice settings or geographic regions without having to make a permanent commitment.

If I work a locum tenens assignment, who covers my malpractice insurance? As an independent contractor, it is essential that you have malpractice in the state where you are providing coverage. Psychiatrists Only provides A.M. Best-rated A+ coverage for our locum psychiatrist contractors working on any assignment in any state.

What if I’m not licensed in the state where you have an assignment? Working locums may offer you the opportunity to work in several states. That’s where you’ll appreciate the distinct advantage of Psychiatrists Only’s in-house licensing department. We coordinate our contract physicians’ license applications with state license boards, facilitating the application process to ensure that all licensing requirements are met.

As a psychiatrist working a locum tenens assignment, how will I be paid? You will be paid bi-weekly by Psychiatrists Only. Direct deposit is available for our locum tenens providers.
